TO START ON STATE HIGHWAY

Between Portsmouth and Portland
---Macadam Road with Bituminous Surface Will Be Built.

Work on the beginning of the Maine state highway between Portland and Portsmouth will be started next month, and the work rushed along until a section will be completed this summer.

The work will be started at the Kittery end of the Portsmouth bridge, and the specifications are now all ready, and bids will be asked for at once. The contract, it is expected, will be let by the middle of the month and the actual work well under way by the first of May.

Civil Engineer W. T. Allen of Biddeford will be in charge of the construction work, and it is anticipated that the section between the Kittery end of the Portsmouth bridge and the town of York, a distance of about eight miles will be done.

The road will be macadam base with a bituminous surface, and it is said to be the best to stand the wear and tear of the great automobile travel. The survey for this highway was made last summer and fall by Civil Engineer Allen, assisted by Dwight Reed of this city, and the survey has been made as far as Cape Neddick.

There is $125,000 available for the work and this will be sufficient to build the road to York corner this year. This is one of the worst sections of the road, and it will be a big boom to the summer resorts at York, and also this city.

SAW TWO FIRES

Portsmouth Automobile Party Who Took a Trip to Boston

W. Harry Chick, Burpee Wood and E. H. Libby took an automobile trip to Boston on Friday. They ran into the big fire at Essex and later into the big fire at Hamilton and were delayed at both places, more than two hours in all, on account of the fires being too hot to pass and covering the only passage.

They returned at night, arriving home at 2.00 a. m.

THEY DID GOOD WORK

Men at the Coal Docks Good Fire Fighters

The North End fire brigade connected with the Consolidation Coal company did a bit of good work at the fire on Friday afternoon at the coal pocket.

Long before the regular fire department got to work the fire company on the dock had the blaze well in hand with a stream from barge No. 16 at the wharf, two streams from the boiler house pumps and one from the city hydrant.

While the stream from this hydrant was absolutely useless the men could have made their work count had the hook and ladder arrived there in any kind of time.

HUGGER STILL BUSY

The last act of Jack the hugger, carried out on Hanover street a few nights ago, is said to be the boldest turn yet on the part of this freak.

KITTERY LETTER

Yacht Club Ladies' Night

Danger in Forest and Grass Fires

The Wedding of Mr. Hamblett and Miss Philbrick

The Departure of Rev. Mr. Onstott for Kansas

Kittery, Me., March 26.

Kittery correspondent's telephone 297-5.

The second grass fire in two days to get beyond control became unmanageable in the strong westerly wind Friday on the premises of Percy Durbin at Park Terrace. Much property was threatened when a volunteer force responded and succeeded in staying its progress. The Kittery fire department was handicapped by its distance from the scene, but arrived in time to be of some service.

John P. Stone of the Naval band has sold his motor boat P. D. Q. to J. Edward Hatch of Portsmouth.

Friday was ladies' night at the Kittery Yacht Club. The winners at whist were: Ladies, Mrs. Earl Dearborn first, Miss Belle Hinchliff second and Mrs. George W. Hayford third; gentlemen's, Harry Goodrich first, Fred J. P. Chase second and Fred M. Stacy third.

Miss Ruth Hayford of Simmons college, Boston, is passing the Easter vacation with her parents Mr. and Mrs. George W. Hayford of Locke's Cove. She has as her guest Miss Belle Hinchliff of Illinois.

Mrs. Eliza B. Bray of Kittery Point visited Mrs. Henry B. Shaw of Central street on Thursday.

The marriage of Miss Adeline Wentworth Philbrick daughter of Benjamin Philbrick, formerly of this town, to Herbert G. Hamblett of Concord, N. H., is announced.

The D. O. or L. D. Y. Whist club met Wednesday evening at Mrs. Joseph Serrell of Government street. The prizes were, ladies, Mrs. William Burrows first, Mrs. George Snow second; gentlemen's, Fred Rounds first, Mrs. George Snow second.

Alfred W. Giggins of Rogers road is enjoying a month's vacation from his duties at the navy yard.

Charles Stearns has moved from the Philbrick house on Williams Avenue to Manchester, N. H.

Mrs. Irving Bowden of Lynn is visiting Mr. and Mrs. Alebit Bowden of Whipple Road.

Lebanon, Kan., where Rev. Daniel Onstott is to be the pastor is in Smith County in the northern part of the Jayhawk state where the industries are agriculture and coal mining. Pictures show a handsome new brick church and a substantial looking business section for the town. Mr. Onstott will start on Monday in order to be present at the North-western Kansas conference at Platte.

ville. Mrs. Onstott and the children will not go for another week, and Mrs. Onstott will look after the church services on April 3. The services on Sunday will be: Morning worship at 10.30, with sermon by the pastor, Rev. Daniel Onstott, on "The Resurrection of Our Lord." The sermon will be preceded by holy communion. The individual communion set presented by Mr. and Mrs. Clarence M. Prince in memory of their son Ralph N. Prince, will be used for the first time. Sunday school at 12, a special Easter service being given. Vesper service at 5.00 p. m. with address by the pastor on "The Fundamental Fact in Religion." There will be special music at morning worship and the vesper service. Epworth League service at 6.00 p. m. a Fanny Crosby service being given, with a sketch of that blind hymn writer, whose 80th birthday came this week. Mrs. Onstott, leader. The request is made that all bring in their benevolent offerings or hand them to Mrs. Onstott or to Mrs. Damon as soon as possible.

Rev. William T. Carter, who leaves the pastorate at Lebanon, Kan., will return to his native state of Maine. It cannot be learned yet here he will be assigned.

Rev. Daniel Onstott, who will close his pastorate at the Second Methodist church on Sunday, is an Ohio man who came East to finish his education, and has had charges in Massachusetts and New Hampshire conferences. He is regarded as an able preacher. The church attendance and membership have increased during his three years in Kittery and the church has been remodeled. He has been greatly assisted in his work here by his energetic wife.

The pastor of the First Methodist church at North Kittery, Rev. Mr. Denney is also a Western man, and at the close of the present conference year expects to close his pastorate here and return to his western home.

An Easter concert will be given Sunday evening at the Second Christian church at the time of the usual evening service.

Mrs. Benjamin Bunker of Government street is slowly improving from the effect of recent surgical treatment.

Kittery Point

Kittery Point correspondent's telephone 297-5.

A fire, supposedly started by wood choppers, broke out in the woods of the late Jeremiah Hobbs on Crockett's Neck at 12.30 Friday afternoon and alarm 25 was blown in upon the Atlantic Shore Line power house whistle. Being partially disabled however, the whistle was barely audible against the heavy wind, and prompt response by the fire department was rendered impossible. Before organized assistance could have reached the scene the fire had been checked by early comers from the endangered section. Little damage was done.

Miss Rachel Cutts has returned from a visit in Beverly Mass.

Oliver L. Frisbee of Portsmouth as in town Friday.

Fred Dow and J. C. Hoyt launched their motorboats for the season on Friday.

The children's Easter concert will be held at the Congregational church from 5 to 6 Sunday afternoon, after which the Union Bethel service will be held at the first Christian church.

The K. F. G. Fancywork club holds its next meeting Thursday afternoon April 7, with Miss Ethel C. Frisbee.

The youngsters are enjoying baseball to their utmost ability.

The leaking schooner Silver Spray, which ran ashore on the flats in Pepperrell's Cove Thursday night, floated later but grounded again, and all Friday afternoon was nearly high and dry and keeled sharply to port, while the crew attempted to stop the leak in her bottom. Capt. Piper reported that when leaving Gloucester harbor Thursday morning his vessel collided with a lighter and had her main starboard chainplates and lanyards carried away, weakening the rigging so that he feared losing his masts unless he put in here for repairs. Today the Silver Spray was docked at Frisbee's wharf, where another effort will be made to locate and stop the leak. For a 25-mile voyage this one has been rather beset by misfortunes.

THE WEATHER

Saturday night and Sunday—Fair with cool to moderate temperature and light to moderate northwesterly winds.

STEAMSHIP COMPANY MAKING PREPARATIONS

For Starting Business in This City and at the Isles of Shoals

The officials of the Southern Maine Steamship Company were here today and made a trip to the Oceanic Hotel at the Isles of Shoals.

The trip was made in the interest of the improvements to be made there by this company who are in control of the hotel.

The representatives of the company were Treasurer R. S. Brown, Attorney James A. Terrill and General Manager W. B. Ellison.

In this city these men met master painters, carpenters and machinists who went to the island to view the work planned by the steamship company.

This work will begin on April 1 and be completed by the opening time of the summer hotels.

In connection with the hotel improvements the party arranged for the repairs and alterations on its docks off Market street, which will also be started on April 1st.

A RIVER OF LAVA NINE MILES LONG

Catania, Sicily, March 26.—An official report upon the volcanic disturbances in the Mt. Etna district, made last Friday, while confirming the gravity of the situation, gives hope that the worst is over. The new craters appear to be only four in number. These have opened at the foot of Mt. Castellazzo, four miles in an air line from the summit of Mt. Etna. One of these craters is at Tascia Albani. This is not throwing out much lava, but is the noisiest of the four, and its loud detonations are chiefly responsible for the terror of the population for miles around. A second crater 7,000 feet above, in a place called Volta Sangirol Amo. This is 7,000 feet above the sea, and the most active of the openings, emitting the greatest flood of incandescent matter. At Tascia Arena is a third crater, also very active, and near it the fourth, showing a less serious eruption.

Four streams emitted from these craters have united at the foot of Mt. Castellazzo and formed a great river of lava that is bringing death and desolation into the invaded districts. Plants, trees, whole vineyards and orchards have been destroyed by the consuming flood. On Friday the lava river had extended nine miles from the source.

Even in this city there was little sleep for anyone last night. The greatest anxiety was felt for friends and relatives and their property interests in the threatened district by those who knew well the possibilities of the disaster.

In the path of the advancing flood the people are in great terror and thousands had abandoned their homes at daylight. The roaring of Mt. Etna continued without interruption Friday and a rain of clinders fell for miles round. Several houses of peasants have already been destroyed and it is feared that if the flow does not cease very soon the flood will enter Borrel. Caravans of peasants carrying all their household goods and all of their transportable possessions are moving to places of safety.

The fleeing ones present a pathetic sight. At many homes the molten mass has entered the cisterns and caused destructive explosions.

During the past 48 hours the emission of lava, it is estimated, has amounted to 10,000,000 cubic yards.

Prof. Ricco, director of the Mt. Etna observatory, advancing too far into the disturbed zone Friday, was caught in a blizzard of clinders and smoke and forced to flee for his life. Troops have been ordered into the vicinity, and volunteers from neighboring villages have come to the aid of the distressed.

After reaching the valley the lava flood widened, but diminished in velocity, and late Friday the hope that the eruptions were decreasing in volume was strengthened.

Theatrical Topics

A Chance to See "Faust"

It is well known among the popular price theatre goers that the Bennett-Moulton companies never do things by halves, consequently the announcement of this beautiful play "Faust," in this season's repertoire for the unusual interest taken in the company's engagement here for three days, beginning Monday, March 28.

The management has spared no expense to make this one of the strongest productions ever seen in repertoire at popular prices. Prominent among the special stage settings will be seen the illuminated church, the beautiful garden scene, the city fountain and the Broken scene on Wall-purgis night, picturing the revel of the demons.

The large patronage that this piece has drawn and the enthusiasm with which it has been received, gives more evidence of the Bennett-Moulton company's ability and forethought in providing for and meeting with the popular price patrons demand.

The cast includes many clever performers, new plays have been added to the repertoire and an entire new list of vaudeville to fill up the waits between the acts.

Mr. Creator and His Band at Queen's Hall

On Creator's appearance in London, the Pall Mall Gazette, under the above head, published the following criticism:

"Mr. Creator's band is composed of brass, wood wind, double basses, and harp. The effects which he produced from this combination of instruments were certainly quite extraordinary. At the outset were inclined to think that the whole band, including its conductor, ran to the extremity of melodrama.

"Mr. Creator himself outvied the most active of conductors, by jumping from his platform, conducting little groups of instruments by themselves, and generally wandering round, in order to secure effects, in so restless a manner, that it was difficult to make out exactly what his essential purpose was.

"By degrees, however, when the feeling of restlessness had worn off, one saw that his influence over the orchestra was quite amazing, and the first rough impression became entirely obliterated. Although at the beginning one was inclined to laugh, at the end one recognized that his extraordinary enthusiasm, his equally extraordinary surrender to the spirit of the music which he was conducting, marked him out as a man of real individuality, and not as an aerobically performer. His control of his band is intensely quick; he never allows anybody to fall short, or to show the slightest suspicion of indolence; it is a matter of course, that any new method in any art is first received with a certain amount of conventional laughter.

But though we ourselves confess that laughter was our inclination at the outset, we will equally confess that at the end it was possible to recognize in Mr. Creator's method a way of conducting which is entirely new, and we will venture to add, superlatively effective.

"A wit was heard to describe him last night as 'The Platform Creeper.'

NAVY MUST BEAR ITS SHARE OF LOSS

In a decision handed down by Judge Hough in the United States district court, in New York, the United States government is given no preference over other claimants for damages growing out of the collision between the Italian steamship Florida, and the White Star liner Republic in January, 1909. The Republic, which was sunk, had on board provisions for the Atlantic battleship fleet, then on its world cruise, and the government put in a claim for $50,000, the full value of the goods, but the court holds that government, like other creditors, must accept a pro rata division realized on the sales of the Florida, which brought $175,000.

ALL KIDNEY MISERY AND BACKACHE GOES

Out-of-Order Kidneys Are Regulated and Bladder Misery Ends

Hundreds of folks here are needlessly miserable and worried because of out-of-order kidneys, backache or bladder trouble.

If you will take several doses of Pape's Diuretic all misery from a lame back, rheumatism, painful stiffness, inflamed or swollen eyelids, nervous headache, irritability, dizziness, worn-out sick feeling and other symptoms from overworked or deranged kidneys will vanish.

Uncontrollable, smarting, frequent urination (especially at night), and all bladder misery ends.

This unusual preparation goes at once to the disordered kidneys, bladder and urinary system, and distributes its healing, cleansing and vitalizing influence directly upon the organs and glands affected, and completes the cure before you realize it.

The moment you suspect any kidney or urinary disorder, or feel rheumatism coming, begin taking this harmless medicine with the knowledge that there is no other remedy, at any price, made anywhere else in the world, which will effect so thorough and prompt a cure as a fifty-cent treatment of Pape's Diuretic, which any druggist can supply.

Your physician, pharmacist, bank or any mercantile agency will tell you that Pape, Thompson & Pape, of Cincinnati, is a large and responsible medicine concern, thoroughly worthy of your confidence.

Only curative results can come from taking Pape's Diuretic, and a few days' treatment means clean, active, healthy kidneys, bladder and urinary organs—and you feel fine.

Accept only Pape's Diuretic—fifty-cent treatment—from any drug store—anywhere in the world.

Forecasts of the 1910 Election.

Speculation is rife just now at the opening of the second year of Taft as to the lineup and results in the general elections of 1910. Voters are expected to express at the polls their likes and dislikes of things as they seem to be drifting. Perhaps the first gun of 1912 will be fired next November. But it may kick and scatter confusion in the rear.

Much, much may happen between November, 1910, and November, 1912, to affect the next national election. Seats in congress and in state executive mansions may be lost this year and spur the losers to come back stronger and recover them in 1912. It will be an important off year election, and present prospects are that party lines will be run over in the zeal to settle issues more vital to the public weal than the life of any particular party combinations.

That battleship of 32,000 tons displacement and to cost $18,000,000 is at present only a dream of Secretary of the Navy Meyer, and, of course, it is possible that somebody may have a bigger dream. It generally happens that way as to battleships.

The request of a fortune to the Prohibition party is disallowed by a court on the ground that it was not directed toward a charitable object. It is thus judicially determined that the Prohibition party is not an object of charity.

Exeter, March 26.—The question of the new high school, which was voted on at the school meeting, was left to a committee consisting of George P. Kimball, Arthur O. Fuller, John Templeton, Judge John E. Young and Clarence Gatchell, who will consider it from every point of view and report at the adjourned meeting, April 23. At least four plans are proposed: First, of building a new and thoroughly modern building to cost about $30,000; second, to repair the present high school building and to increase its size; third, to build a smaller and cheaper building for the present high school to be later used by grades when a permanent high school building can be better afforded; and finally, to remove the grammar grades from the high school building to a new building and to use the present building for some time to come. It is proposed to raise money for a new building, if such course is adopted, by subscription, as many adhering to this plan consider that it would lighten the burden of the taxpayers and would afford a better opportunity for those able to pay, and that persons outside the town, but interested in its welfare, might contribute liberally.

It is an interesting story. John C. Hughes, '10, of Louisville, Ky., has been added to the editorial board.

The Hospital Guild will meet with Mrs. Joseph W. Merrill, Main street, on Thursday afternoon March 31, at 3 o'clock. The guild is anxious to increase its membership, and ladies wishing to assist in the work are invited to join at this meeting.

Messrs. Walter S. Carlisle and Geo. J. Lord have purchased the Oscar G. Poor lumber business and taken possession.

The annual meeting of the Town Improvement association will be held at the small vestry of the First church on Friday, April 1, at 4 p. m.

The March meeting of the First Men's club will be held in the lecture room of the church on Monday evening, March 28, at eight o'clock. Mr. Henry G. Durgin will give an informal talk on "United States Railway Mail Service."

There will be baptisms Sunday morning at the Methodist church and evening at the Baptist.

The meeting of the Academy Christian Fraternity Sunday evening will be for students.

Rev. J. E. Lary will give an Easter talk at West End hall Sunday afternoon at three o'clock.

Rev. Raymond H. Huse officiates as pastor of the Methodist church for the last time next Sunday.

An attractive Easter musical program has been arranged for both the morning and evening service at the Baptist church. At the Phillips church the morning service will consist of the decoration of the cross by the children and appropriate music, in addition to the regular Easter sermon. The customary Easter vespers will be held in the evening.

According to the report of the principal of the Robinson Female seminary, conditions there have been greatly improved during the past year. The facilities for working have been aided by the separating of the two first and second classes, and the room is now used for only the first class. By the move it is claimed by the teachers, that more satisfactory work has been accomplished by the three lower classes. By this change the entire class now occupies a separate room, and one teacher devotes her entire time to the class. Adjustable desks and chair have been instituted, and lighting facilities have been made better by the changing of the tint on the walls of one of the rooms, and it is probable that all the rooms will be so equipped soon. There are, however, more acquisitions which the school is in need of, primarily a better system of ventilation, one or more recitation rooms for the upper class, and as has been the request of the principal for several years, the instituting of a business course and also one in home economics for those students who do not intend to pursue a higher education by entering college.

From the proceeds of the Harriet M. Merrill reference library fund, a full set of works of Francis Parkman has been added to the library, which now numbers 1500 volumes.

While no movement of the militant suffragettes has been heard of in Exeter if the interest displayed by the women voters at the school meeting on Thursday is any criterion such a movement would gain many followers in town and the question of woman rights would become all important in local politics. Fully one-half of the total vote cast was polled by the women voters, who represented every element in town. Miss Frances E. Smith is their representative on the board, and was reelected for a second term of three years. She was a member of the corps of teachers for many years and for several years an assistant in the high school.

The prevailing criticisms of the game of football, and the approach of the second meeting of the rules committee, has aroused some interest here, where it has been played to a great extent since it was introduced. Probably the numbers engaged in the American college game here since it was first introduced in 1876, foots in the thousands, and of late years the numbers have increased with the popularity of the sport. The serious accidents have been decidedly few, yet yet there is no doubt that the strenuousness is as great, if not greater than in many of the colleges. In reviewing the changes of the rules, George S. Connors, who has had charge of the physical condition of the athletic teams here for the past nine years, suggests that the forward pass be allowed to go to any part of the field, and to be received by any player on the same team of the player who made the pass.

Now it can only be taken by the end, or those players back of the line. The pass would be thus more at random, and make the play more open, and in case the ball struck the ground it is to remain dead.

Mr. Connors also suggests that the officials pay more attention to the piling on a man after the ball is dead. It is in this way that nearly all of the injuries here have been received. In regard to the counting the trainer does not place much science, as compared with field goals, on a goal after a touchdown.

The changes in the rules will be watched with much interest here.

The annual exhibition of prescribed and special work was given at the academy gymnasium Friday night before a large audience and was of parked interest. The events and participants were:

STRAIN TOO GREAT

Hundreds of Portsmouth Readers Find Daily Toil a Burden

The hustle and worry of business men,
The hard work and stooping of workmen,
The woman's household cares,
Are too great a strain on the kidneys.
Backache, headache, sideache,
Kidney troubles, urinary troubles follow.

A Portsmouth citizen tells you how to cure them all.

B. A. Berry, 85 Congress Street, Portsmouth, N. H., says: "Doan's Kidney Pills did a member of our family more good than any other remedy I ever tried. The person referred to is employed on the railroad and he constant jolting and jarring of the cars weakened his kidneys. His back was very lame and at times his whole body became sore. Learning that Doan's Kidney Pills were a fine remedy for kidney complaint, he procured a box at Phillips' Drug Store and began their use. Before long a cure was effected and from that day to this, kidney trouble has not returned. I also used Doan's Kidney Pills and they cured me of a lameness in my back and strengthened my kidneys."

NEWFIELDS

A fire Friday afternoon burned over a tract of about one hundred acres in Newfields, starting on the land of George W. Paul, near the residence of William J. MacWhinney, who was burning brush. The high winds spread the flames to the land of J. Thornton Pike, the Jay pasture and lots owned by the late Thomas Kelley and Benjamin Reed. Many acres of valuable standing timber, also a valuable apple orchard owned by George Paul was burned over.

For any pain, from top to toe, from any cause, apply Dr. Thomas' Electric Oil. Pain can't stay where it is used.

CONFESSIONS ARE DEMANDED

Ultimatum of Grand Jury to Pittsburg Grafters

BANK DIRECTORS WARNED

Many Large Institutions Found to Have Contributed to Bribery Fund and Entire Directorates Are Threatened With Indictment—Great Distrust Existed Between Banks, "Big Six" and Councilmen Themselves

Pittsburg, Pa., March 26.—The Allegheny county grand jury made a preliminary presentation in which it threatens, by implication, to bring in indictments against the directors of six banks of Pittsburg, unless these men come forward immediately and confess what they know regarding the bribery of members of councils in connection with the naming of the city depositaries.

The banks named are, among the largest in Greater Pittsburg. They are Farmers' National Deposit, Columbia National, German National, Second National, German National of Allegheny, and Workmen's Saving and Trust company. On the directorates of these banks are the wealthiest and most prominent men in Greater Pittsburg.

The grand jury finds that each of the banks mentioned, with the exception of the Workmen's Trust, paid $17,500 into the bribery fund. The Workmen's paid but $15,000, as they got under the wire before it had been decided to raise the ante $2500. Forty-five thousand dollars of the fund, according to the report, was paid by "some person unknown as yet" at Hotel Imperial, New York. Councilman Stewart and the "unknown" had duplicate cards, and when the "unknown" presented his, Stewart was to accept the $45,000. The deal went through as scheduled.

The grand jury finds that the greatest distrust existed not only between the banks and the five members of the "Big Six," but between the councilmen themselves. After the greater portion of the money had been paid, the passage of the ordinance was twice postponed because Stewart refused to turn over $45,000 over to Hugh Ferguson, treasurer of the "Big Six," and the second time because Max Leslie, one time political boss of the county, endeavored to engineer a double-cross and refused to turn over $17,500 he had collected from the Columbia National.

Councilman Brand, another of the schemers who has just gone to the penitentiary, eventually got the money from Leslie, but, as he reported to his colleagues, "only after the greatest argument of my life."

The grand jury accounts for nearly every cent of the $102,000 contributed by the banks. Of the amount, $27,000 went to the smaller try in councils, the five members of the "Big Six" taking the balance. Newspaper reporters and city clerks also figure in the distribution to a minor extent. Incidentally the grand jury returned twenty-five indictments yesterday. The men named in the indictments are William Brand, Hugh Ferguson and Charles Stewart, all members of city councils. The indictments contain many counts. Accompanying the returned true bills the grand jury handed down a twenty-page typewritten statement covering the whole graft exposure.

FIRE LOSS OF $100,000

Aid From Other Places Saves Millionaires' Homes at Hamilton

Hamilton, Mass., March 26.—Fire burned six dwellings, seven barns, a business block, laundry and kennels here. The total damage is estimated at not less than $100,000. It was feared at one time that the whole town, with its luxurious summer residences of millionaires, would be swept away. Help was sent from surrounding towns and cities.

The burned properties were those of all the year residents of Hamilton, except the barn on Max Norman's farm and the Myopia club stables. The homes of the "natives" are in the more thickly settled portion of the town, where the fire leaped easily from one structure to another. The fire started from a defective chimney.

PLEADS GUILTY OF REBATING

Agent Admits Receiving Concessions For Steamer Lines

New York, March 26.—Adrian Crips, general agent of the Holland-American steamship line in the United States, pleaded guilty in the United States circuit court to indictments charging the receiving of rebates from railroads.

Crips pleaded guilty to one count in each of two indictments which charged the receiving of rebates from the Washington and the Central Vermont railroads in violation of the Hepburn law.

Judge Holt imposed a fine of $2000 in each case.

It's Assassin Put to Death

Harbin, Manchuria, March 26.—The assassin of Prince Ito, Ichimura Angan, the Korean fanatic, was put to death yesterday at Port Arthur.

"MISS PLYMOUTH"

Poultry Dealers Trying to Place Blame Upon Her

POULTRY TRUST MEN HELD

Sixty of the Eighty-Six Indicted Deposit Ball of $1000 Each

New York, March 26.—The eighty-six defendants who were indicted, charged with illegally manipulating the live poultry business in the city, have each been held in $1000 bail for trial. Sixty of the defendants appeared in court, after bail was set, and deposited bonds for their release. A date for trial has not been fixed.

Former District Attorney Jerome, counsel for the poultrymen, scoffed at the story circulated that he had secured the service of a number of experts to put all the blame on Miss Layer Plymouth. "Why, any one can see this is a joke," explained Jerome. "Miss Plymouth is the name of a chicken. She is not to be made the goat, I assure you."

While the denial of Jerome was being given out it is said that experts are at work to prove that all the blame of the poultry trust will be shouldered on the hard laying chickens.

FINDER OF GIANT SEQUOIS IS DEAD

Galen Clarke Long Guardian of the Yosemite Valley

San Francisco, March 26.—Galen Clarke, discoverer of the Mariposa grove of big trees and for twenty years guardian of the Yosemite valley, died at the home of his daughter, Mrs. Elvia Lee, of Oakland. He was 96 years old. He had been confined to his room for a day or two by a cold and his daughter found him dead in bed.

Clarke was born in New Hampshire and came to California in 1853. He discovered the giant sequoias in 1857 while hunting. He will be buried in the valley in a tomb which he cut out himself in a huge granite rock within a stone's throw of the Yosemite Falls.

Besides Mrs. Lee, Clarke leaves another daughter, Mrs. James Regan, of Springfield, Mass.

PROBE BEGUN ON THE SALEM

Discipline on Cruiser Said to Have Been Hard in the Extreme

Norfolk, March 26.—Owing to an investigation begun by Admiral Dillingham into charges of alleged harsh and cruel treatment of the men aboard the scout cruiser Salem, the sailing of the vessel has been delayed.

She was to have joined the Birmingham, a sister ship, on a cruise to South America and the west coast of Africa, from which distant points the two ships are to conduct long distance wireless tests during the coming summer with Brant Rock, Mass.

For some time past complaint has been heard that Captain Evans was applying the naval regulations with undue severity on board the Salem. It was alleged that the discipline was harsh in the extreme, and that lack of tact in dealing with the men, who were punished for the most trivial offenses, made the situation aboard ship become unbearable.

INSURANCE GRAFT PROBE

Hotchkiss Expected to Present New Names When Inquiry Is Resumed

New York, March 26.—Delving deep into the mines of legislative graft and mire, State Superintendent of Insurance Hotchkiss is revealing insurance facts likely to develop into a greater sensation than the probe of the Armstrong committee on the "yellow dog" fund. The dragging of the courts into the investigation has been the biggest surprise yet and startling evidence is expected when the inquiry is resumed next week.

The names of two senators are said to be involved in the testimony that Hotchkiss will bring out. Chief Justice Cullen of the court of appeals announced that he would take a hand in the investigation because letters had been produced, indicating that there was a leak from the insurance interests.

Coal Men Fail to Agree

Cincinnati, March 26.—With all tentative propositions for compromise rejected, the joint scale committee of miners and operators of Ohio, Indiana and western Pennsylvania, adjourned after deciding to report a failure of their effort to agree.

FITZGERALD SIDETRACKED

Republican Plan to Make Him Lead Democrats

IT MEETS WITH DEFEAT

Clark Supported by Minority When Effort is Made to Have New York Friend of Cannon Organization Ranking Man on Rules Committee—Alleged Ship Subsidy Lobby Promises to Start Another Row Washington, March 26.—Several of the house organization leaders were frustrated in an attempt to arrange the membership on the new committee on rules, so that in the event of a Democratic house at the next congress John J. Fitzgerald would be ranking member and entitled to the chairmanship.

Representatives Currier (N. H.) and Clayton (Ala.), chairman of the Democratic caucus reported to the house the selections of their respective caucuses for members of the new rules committee, provided for under the terms of the Norris resolution. The Republican members were named in the order of seniority, and without regard to the number of votes received by each member. It was because of this that Representative Dargatz (Penn.) was allowed to outrank Mr. Smith (Ia.), who received the largest number of votes.

When the Democratic nominations were presented to the house by Clayton the names were presented according to the number of votes received by each man. This order derwood (Ala.) second, Dixon (Ind.) placed Champ Clark (Mo.) first. Unthird, and Fitzgerald (N. Y.) fourth. Representatives Tawney and Mann promptly insisted that inasmuch as Fitzgerald was a member of the old committee on rules he should rank next to Clark, also a member of the old committee, and above Underwood and Dixon. They insisted that under the terms of the resolution adopted by the Republican caucus Currier was ordered to present the nominations to the house in that order.

Mr. Currier would not construe his orders in that fashion, and insisted that the Democrats had the right to fix seniority on the committee in any fashion they saw fit. Clayton declared that the Democrats would insist on their right to rank their members as they pleased, and for a moment it looked as if it would be necessary to settle the difficulty by a roll call. Tawney and Mann, however, desisted in their efforts in behalf of Fitzgerald when it was apparent that they were defeated.

Had their plan gone through it would have been difficult to keep Fitzgerald out of the chairmanship of the committee if the next house is controlled by the Democrats, and inasmuch as he is on friendly terms with the Cannon organization he, more than any other Democrat in the house, would be acceptable to the Republicans. As the matter now stands, Fitzgerald is the last man on the committee.

Another row in the house is expected when the judiciary committee reports to the house the resolution calling for an investigation of the alleged ship subsidy lobby in Washington. Under the terms of the resolution, Speaker Cannon is empowered to appoint the investigating committee. The insurgents will oppose this plan and will assert that in view of the precedents established in having the house electing the members of the Ralinger-Finchot investigating committee, the new rules committee, the practice should be continued. The Democrats are expected to join the insurgents in this fight, and if there is the same solidarity as existed last week the regulars will be beaten if they attempt to oppose the insurgent proposal.

The new rules committee was organized shortly after its election by the house. Dargatz was elected chairman as had been expected, all of the Republicans voting for him. Clark received the Democratic votes.

NO BIG RAILROAD STRIKE

Only a Few Terms of Peace Remain to Be Arranged

New York, March 26.—All danger of a strike of 125,000 railroad employees on more than fifty lines in the east and west has passed and only some terms of peace remain to be fixed.

In Chicago the threatened walkout of switchmen on western roads has been averted and final agreement will be settled; the employees of the New Haven railroad have practically reneged a settlement and the threatened strike of 6000 men on the New York Central lines has been averted.

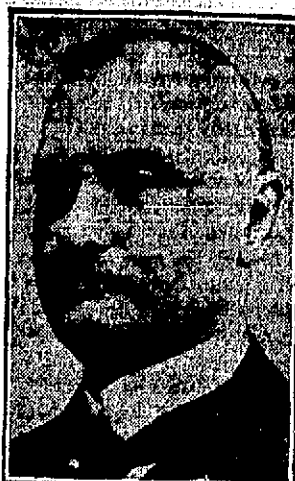

Woman Slayer Is Sentenced

Rutland, Vt., March 26.—A sentence from fifteen to twenty years at hard labor was imposed upon Robert Eddy, aged 28, who was convicted of manslaughter in causing the death of Mary J. Johnson of Wallingford.

Miss Johnson, aged 67, died of injuries inflicted during a quarrel.

THOMAS S. RYAN

Has Long Cherished Senatorial Ambition

RYAN FOR THE SENATE

Slated to Succeed Daniel Should Later's Illness Prove Fatal

Richmond, March 26.—Thomas F. Ryan seems to be on the eve of realizing one of the greatest ambitions of his life—to occupy a seat in the United States senate.

It is said by well informed men here that, in the event of the death of Senator John W. Daniel, who is critically ill at Daytona, Fla., Ryan will be appointed by Governor Mann to the unexpired term.

GIRL DEFIES MOB BENT ON LYNCHING

Bravely Faces Shower of Missiles and Saves Man's Life

St. Louis, March 26.—Ante-election troubles in Wellston, a suburb of St. Louis, culminated in an attempt to lynch City Clerk Butler and the slaying of the city hall. Several persons were hit by flying missiles, but nobody was seriously hurt.

Several hundred in a mob, shouting their intentions of hanging Butler, pursued him to the city hall and were only restrained from dragging him from his office by the courage of Miss Ethel Kearby, daughter of the chief of police.

Undaunted by the threats from the crowd or by the shower of stones and bricks hurled at the building, she stood in the entrance and defied any one to enter. She held her place until several policemen arrived and dispersed the crowd.

Butler refused to accept the nominating petition of the anti-administration party, precipitating the outbreak.

AIRSHIP FLIGHT TO VENUS

Mathematical Prodigy Figures Out How It May Be Accomplished

Boston, March 26.—Willie Sidis, the 11-year-old mathematical prodigy of Harvard, has entered the realms of aerial navigation. He predicts that an airship will be built which will take man to the planet Venus in twenty minutes.

Sidis is not building the airship. He has simply made a study of the problem in the physical laboratory, and has reached conclusions which are accepted by scientists. He says that the alpha rays given off from radium are able to drive a machine through space at about 20,000,000 miles a minute. By attaching a block of radium to the back of the airship, Sidis figures, the machine could be shot through space faster than the earth moves.

HELD IN $10,000 EACH

Two Italians Charged With Attempt to Blackmail Caruso

New York, March 26.—Two prosperous Italian business men, Antonio Cincotto and Antonio Mislano, charged with attempting to blackmail and extort $15,000 from Enrico Caruso, were indicted for that offense in the county court at Brooklyn. Both pleaded not guilty.

Their bail was raised from $5000 to $10,000 each and Judge Fawcett said he had been informed that the men were about to leave the jurisdiction of the court.

Cincotto and Mislano were traced and arrested through a decoy letter placed by Caruso's valet at a certain point in Brooklyn designated in threatening letters received by the tenor. No date has been set for the trial.

Planning Panama Exposition San Francisco, March 26.—Permanent organization of the Panama International Exposition company was effected here, following the incorporation of the company with a capitalization of $5,000,000.

Oldest Pickpocket Sentenced Boston, March 26.—James B. Wilson, aged 72, known as the oldest pickpocket in the country, was sentenced to six months in the house of correction for the larceny of $200 from a male peddler.

SEAMSTRESS AS HIS BRIDE

George Coleman Takes Out a License to Marry

CEREMONY OCCURS TODAY

Had Planned to Be Married in February, but Crash of National City Bank of Cambridge Caused Delay—Young Woman Stands by Man Accused of Theft of Nearly $200,000, and Who May Soon Be Imprisoned

Boston, March 26.—George W. Coleman, who, only a few weeks ago, was spending money like water and who in a little more than a year frittered away nearly $200,000 belonging to the National City bank of Cambridge, is to wed a poor seamstress. The girl of his choice is Miss Mamie Hightower of Kansas City, the daughter of a carpenter employed in a bed spring factory.

The wedding will take place some time today, according to a statement made by the former bank clerk, but who is to perform the ceremony, or where, he will not tell. The bride-to-be is already in town, and for a day or two was a guest at the Coleman home in Cambridge. Since then she has been stopping in a Boston hotel.

Coleman and Miss Hightower had planned to be married the latter part of February and the young woman, who was employed as a fancy seamstress in New York, was at home preparing her trousseau when the bank crash came. Coleman, foreseeing that his pecuniary means were soon to be discovered, left Cambridge a few days before the doors of the bank were closed for good and hurried to Kansas City to tell Miss Hightower and her parents of the impending trouble. He hoped she would stand by him in his hour of trouble, but he had no thought of forcing the wedding upon her.

But the young lady herself had something to say and even with the thought of years in the federal prison staring Coleman in the face, she did not lose courage. She insisted that the marriage take place as planned.

A fortnight ago Miss Hightower came east and that her desires prevailed is apparent from the fact that Coleman filed his marriage intentions with the Cambridge city clerk and the necessary marriage license is now in his possession.

Coleman first met the young woman in New York. The story of their love and courtship is known to few, but it is known that many of his hurried trips to New York, which it has been said, were made simply for the excitement of the thing and to gamble away the bank's money, were in reality made for the purpose of calling upon his sweetheart.

Coleman himself had little to say when attempts were made to interview him yesterday. He smilingly admitted that he had taken out a marriage license and that he intended to be married "before Sunday." Up until last evening, according to the statement of his father and other members of the family, the young couple had not been married, so that his statement places the ceremony today.

"SLASHER" RUINS GARMENTS

New York Subway Pest Shows Antipathy Toward Fine Dresses

New York, March 26.—Reappearance of "Jack the Slasher" in the subway stations of the city has led to a special order to the Interborough's secret service men to keep a sharp lookout for him. Scores of women have reported to the police and the subway officials in the past ten days that their garments have been slashed.

He cuts only dresses of excellent material. In some instances he has slashed overcoats of fine material worn by men, but most of his operations are confined to garments worn by women. He invariably makes a cut, apparently with a razor or sharp knife, from six to eighteen inches long.

IN COURT AT AGE OF 108

Negress Summoned as Witness Enjoys Her Novel Experience

Paterson, N. J., March 26.—Mrs. Mary Thompson, a negress, 108 years old, was summoned here as a witness to testify in an assault and battery case tried in the sessions court, but she was not called to the witness stand, because the defendant did not appear and he was convicted on the testimony of the complaining witness.

Mrs. Thompson said it was the first time she had ever been in court. She walked to the courthouse without aid of any kind. All her faculties are good, and she enjoyed listening to the disposition of a score of cases.

Boys Drowned From Raft

Boston, March 26.—Two boys were drowned on the East Boston flats as a result of jumping overboard when their raft became uncontrollable in the wind. The boys were Hector McDonald, 13 years old, and Richard Fahy, 11 years old.

HELD IN $10,000 BAIL

Malden Highwayman Is Recognized as an Old Offender

Boston, March 26.—Police headquarters in this city found a record for the man who snatched a handbag containing $344.75 from John A. Bruce on one of the busiest streets in Malden, threatened his pursuers with two revolvers and finally landed in the police station after the money had been recovered.

The man gave his name as Frederick H. Rice and claimed to live in Portland, Me. Rice was brought to police headquarters in Boston, and as soon as he entered the rogues' gallery Inspector Burr recognized him as an old offender. Rice was arrested on Feb. 1, 1904, for entering a house on Appleton street and robbing a woman. For this offense he served three years in the house of correction. His other names are Frederick Haskell and Alfred R. Kehaw. Under this last name he worked at one time as assistant clerk of the superior civil court.

When Rice was arraigned in the Malden court, on a charge of highway robbery, he showed a knowledge of court procedure. When his case was called he immediately waived examination and was held in $10,000 bail to await action by the Middlesex grand jury in June.

GIRL DRANK COCKTAILS

Has No Remembrance of Wedding, So She Is Granted Divorce

New York, March 26.—Supreme Court Justice Gilchrist decided that a girl who drinks three or four cocktails late at night and finds herself a bride in the morning when she wakes up is entitled to have her marriage annulled. For this reason he signed a decree which annulled the marriage of Elsie M. H. Irvine to Robert Irvine, Jr.

Elsie was married when she was 18 years old. While on the way to church she accepted Robert's cocktail invitation. She remembered a dizziness and later being called Mrs. Irvine.

SEYMOUR GLOVER ON WITNESS STAND

Thinks Hattie Le Blanc Was Slayer of His Brother

Cambridge, Mass., March 26.—Seymour S. Glover, on the witness stand in the Glover will contest, testified that he was satisfied that Hattie Le Blanc murdered his brother Clarence, and that he would not deny that he had heard Mrs. Glover express a wish that her husband was dead; that Mrs. Glover said that she had lost faith in her husband; that she called her husband a "jay," and that he himself had felt like "splitting her head open" for what she had said about his parents.

This testimony caused a sensation, coming, as it did, from the one brother who benefits from the Glover will and who has sided with Mrs. Glover and against his contesting brothers in the murder mystery and will controversy.

CHARGES WILL BE UPHELD

Sentiment at Albany in Regard to Alldis Bribery Case

Albany, March 26.—One of Senator Alldis' closest political friends is said to have informed him that he might just as well prepare for the worst. This but echoes the general feeling here that the man Senator Conger accuses of taking bribes will be found guilty as a result of the trial just concluded by the senate when their verdict is announced next week.

Political authorities here line up the senators believed to be for and against Alldis in a manner which shows that if the Conger charges are sustained the vote will at any rate be close, but in any case, assuming that all the doubtful ones line up with his friends, he will lose by a vote of 21 to 25.

HIGH PRICES FOR MEATS

Packers More Sorry For Themselves Than For People, Says O. Armour

Omaha, March 26.—J. O. Armour, head of the Armour Packing House, is awfully sorry that the people of the United States have to pay such high prices for their meats and he sees no relief from these prices until the new crop of meat-producing animals comes in. He said:

"The packers do not make as much money when prices are high as they do when they are low. So we are more sorry for ourselves over our curtailed profits than we are for the people."

"I can see no relief until the next crop of hogs, cattle and sheep comes in. Then we hope that prices will go down. But we don't look for lower prices until that time."

Champion Steer-Roper Loses a Hand Honolulu, March 26.—An accidental gunshot wound has cost Angus McPhee, winner of the world's championship in roping steers at the recent meet in Wyoming, his left hand.

King Edward Has Bronchitis Baritz, March 26.—King Edward, who has been here for several days and who, according to rumor, has not been in good health, has had a sharp attack of bronchitis.

With increased facilities, the subscriber is again prepared to take charge of any cemetery lot which may be intrusted to his care. He will give careful attention to the turning and grading of them, also to the cleaning of monuments and headstones, and the removal of weeds. In addition to work at the cemetery he will do turning and grading in the city short notice.

Cemetery lots for sale. Also Lottin and Turner. Orders left at his residence, corner of High and Adams streets, or by mail to Oliver W. Ham, 61 Market Street will be given prompt attention.

CANADA NOT INCLUDED

The president has issued proclamations declaring that the following named countries are entitled to the minimum rates of the Payne-Adams Tariff act: The Empire of China, including all its dependencies; Oman; Afghanistan, Nepal, Bhutan, Johore, Luxemburg, Montenegro, Monaco; Andorra; San Marino; Liechtenstein; Italy; the Kwangtung territory; West-Hill; Wel; Koachou; German possessions in Samoa, German New Guinea, including the insular possessions of the Carolines, Pelew and the Marianne Islands; Marshall, Brown and Providence Islands, Straits Settlements, including Keeling Islands; the Federated Malay States, Brunei and Sarawak; Hong Kong and Kowloon; Nyassaland; Northern Nigeria Protectorate; Southern Nigeria Protectorate (Lagos); Gold Coast Colony, including Ashanti; the colony and protectorate of Sierra Leone; the colony and protectorate of Cambodia; Fiji; Tonga and Turkish possessions in Africa.

China, commercially the most important nation on the list, had a total trade with the world for the year 1908 amounting to $431,258,000 of which the United States had $42,295,000.

There was an increase in the imports into the United States from China during the ten years ended in 1908 of 23.1 per cent, and an increase of exports to China during the same period of 123.6 per cent.

This recent list is in addition to the previous lists.

The conspicuous thing is the absence of Canada from the list. Next to England, Canada is our best foreign market.

BIRDSEYE VIEWS

Canada has decided to approve the waterways treaty with the United States Senate rider providing that existing rights of riparian owners on the St. Mary's river at the Soo, in either country shall not be interfered with. The treaty limits the amount of water to be taken from Niagara on the American side, to 20,000 feet per second, and on the Canadian side to 3500. It provides for the free use of international waters, the canals and Lake Michigan for the vessels of both countries. Official announcement of the ratification of the treaty is expected to be made within a short time.

On March 9 Congress passed the bill for an equestrian statue of Major General John Stark in the city of Manchester, with an appropriation of $40,000. The John Sullivan Masonic club should get busy and secure from the national government an appropriation of $5,000 for a statue of Major General John Sullivan in the city of Portsmouth. He devoted twenty years of his short life, in serving both the state and the nation with his great abilities.

The effort on the part of the state of Maine, to have seven companies of naval militia instead of two, recalls the effort a few years ago made in this city by the Ranger Section, No. 17 of the naval league to secure from the new Hampshire legislature a company of the naval militia for this city. That effort should be renewed at the coming legislature. New Hampshire should have two companies at least of naval militia and one of them should be located at Portsmouth. Ours is the only state in New England that does not maintain a naval militia.

An act authorizing the establishment of subordinate signals has passed Congress. Piscataqua Harbor, No. 53, Masters, Mates and Pilots, will ask for these signals to be established at the entrance of Portsmouth Harbor.

AMONG OUR EXCHANGES

Our Commerce With Canada

The only rational way by which to judge whether Canada is or is not according to the United States fair tariff treatment is to study the statistics of the trade carried on between both countries. In the following table we show our exports to and imports from Canada for each of the past ten calendar years:

	Imports	Exports
1909	$87,311,881	$187,730,100
1908	71,363,603	156,624,758
1907	59,866,184	186,621,352
1906	71,834,704	168,721,830
1905	63,927,323	144,079,628
1904	56,626,141	127,285,267
1903	53,291,869	121,451,730
1902	52,544,173	111,753,093
1901	45,328,194	107,492,743
1900	40,441,820	102,896,697

Total excess of exports, $800,743,316.

The conclusion is inevitable that Canada is at least practicing no such undue discrimination against American goods as would justify the application of the maximum duties of the Payne-Adams tariff against Canadian imports. This, it seems to us, should have been apparent to the administration at Washington from the very first, and thus have obviated the necessity of sending a commission across the border to find out whether we are getting all that is coming to us. The truth is that Canada concedes to us a great deal more than we have been willing to concede her, and can well afford to "stand pat" on her present tariff arrangements with other countries. And it would be just as well for us to remember too, that in the event of a tariff war which Canada has done nothing to provoke, there will be blows to take as well as blows to give.—Boston Commercial Bulletin.

Weeks Bill Makes Progress

Favorable action by the House committee on agriculture on the Weeks bill, which is expected to lead to some applied conservation in the White Mountains and the Appalachians is a move in the right direction. With faith struggling against past history we may now unite in hoping that further progress will be made, that the bill will be enacted and that thereupon a permanent check may be imposed on the destruction of forests in the areas in mind when the agitation was begun—long ago. The course of conservation as it concerns the White Mountains and Southern Appalachians has not run smoothly. The growth of the conservation movement towards these sections has hardly more than kept pace with the growth of the trees. It has considerably fallen behind the swing of the woodsman's axes. Now that the bill has escaped from the committee, however, by a vote of ten to seven, it is in the open, and Congress may deal with it in the light. There has been reason to believe that once favorably reported Congress will pass it. Hope has long been deferred, but the heart still matters.—Boston Advertiser.

It is most difficult to understand why so many people continue to suffer from Eczema and other skin diseases. A trial box of the new medical preparation called Cadum can be had from druggists for 10 cents. Cadum possesses remarkable soothing and healing powers. Relief follows as soon as it is applied, and the itching stops at once. Cadum not only destroys germs and microbes, but acts as a barrier in excluding dust, dirt and air from the affected parts, thus producing conditions that favor a quick cure. For Rash, Pimples, Blisters, Itchiness, Roughness, Chafes, Scaly Skin, Ache, Herpes, Sores, Blackheads, Salt Rheum, etc., this new remedy is a safe and sure cure. Large box 25 cents.

A TIMELY TOPIC.

Charity is

A Disgrace

BY DR. W. F. PORTER
Professor of Physiology at Harvard

CHARITY is a disgrace. Any one who has worked among the poor knows what it means. It means that those who receive it give up hope. It is the greatest psychological factor in the life of the very poor. When they are "on the Associated Charities," or "on the town," they are looked down upon, and rightly so, because it is an official stigma.

Charity as at present administered is a mistake, and the reason for that mistake lies in the fact that charity began in the churches, and is still actively furthered by them. I don't know how it might have been when the word charity originated, but for a number of years there has been more or less of a feeling that charity was a proper thing on the part of persons with means, and persons of means have devoted themselves to dispensing charity rather than to preventing poverty.

Rather than to have an association for the distribution of charity, the biological thing to do would be to have, we will say, a citizens' union for the prevention of charity. When an older person comes to the point where he must accept official charity, the game is usually up with him, biologically speaking. Everything depends, not upon charity to the old, but upon prevention to the young, and this will work itself out when the idea that governs tuberculosis hospitals is extended to other forms of social misery.

THE OBSERVER.

SOME DAY, WE ALL SHALL KNOW

Some day we all shall know why flowers droop and die, And why the leaves of trees and bush wither, fade and dry; We'll know more of the things that crawl, and of the birds that fly, In God's good time we'll know it all—some day, bye and bye.

Some day we all shall know why dear ones that we love, Are taken from us, to join the glorious hosts above, While we are left with saddened hearts and tearful eye, In God's good time we'll know it all—some day, bye and bye.

Some day we all shall know why poverty and pain, Come to some whose lives are pure, again and yet, again; While others not so worthy, have a plenty, tell me why? In God's good time we'll know it all—some day, bye and bye.

—Willie Donlittle, in Newburyport Daily News.

As William bent over her fair face he whispered "Darling, if I should ask you in French if I might kiss you what would you answer?" She, calling up her scanty knowledge of the French language, exclaimed, "Billet doux!"

One of my barber friends tells me that his business has fallen off considerably since the advent of the safety razor. Now the man can shave himself at home in his leisure time and he does not have to think of the barber's shop and is spared all the waits customary to that establishment.

In Salem, the barbers have advanced the price of shaves, on this account. They say their receipts have fallen so that home shaves that they must put up the price for those who remain as customers. This must be rather hard on those who stick to the barber, and it may have the effect of discouraging still more with him. The price of a shave in Salem heretofore is 15 cents and a hair cut is 10 cents. It is said that in some of the shops has fallen off 50 per cent.

There will be a noticeable increase in the number of automobiles owned by residents of suburban towns this coming season. The suburban resident will be able to use his machine for his convenience, as well as for his pleasure. It will enable him to make quick trips to his place of business, at his own convenience. He won't have to chase the trolley cars, which do not run as often in the suburban towns as in the city. Besides, he will use his machine for pleasure riding. The increase in the number of automobiles will lead to a development of suburban homes, perhaps even more so than has the trolley car. The more suburbanites have cars, the larger will be the demand for better roads. The auto is swiftly becoming a conveyance for practical use, as well as for pleasure.

It is a growing custom among people of Portsmouth to make gifts at Easter time. The gifts are usually small remembrances, such as flowers, or Easter bunnies, like gloves, small pieces of jewelry or novelties. Several of the stores make a specialty of things for Easter gifts. It is often pleasant to remember close friends at Easter time.

After-At-While is a luring road leading to Not-At-All.—Hildrie Davenport in April Smart Set.

There is one little incident connected with Charles R. Flint's life which shows us how some American men place their wives on a pedestal in a way that is puzzling to foreigners. Flint, as we all know, says the Detroit Free Press, was among the first to see a great future for the airship, and was identified with the Wright brothers as a backer. One night he invited a Russian diplomat to dine with him at home, the invitation, which was an informal one, explaining that the dinner would be small, in fact, there would be no other guests only his "junior partner."

The diplomat arrived punctually, dressed in his official costume and decorated with orders. He was ushered into the drawing room and shown the trophies which Flint had brought back from his many journeys around the world. He is a collector and a connoisseur, as well as a business man. But no "junior partner" appeared.

The conversation was general, with now and then a reference made by Mr. Flint to the importance of this person. He confessed to the guest that he never took an important business step without first consulting his partner, that he relied almost entirely upon the judgment and sound advice of the "junior partner." Finally, when he could no longer refrain from showing his curiosity, the Russian looked at Mr. and Mrs. Flint and asked whom this mysterious person was. Flint's reply was to make a courtly bow to his wife and present the foreign diplomat to his "junior partner."

Over in the western part of Massachusetts the gray squirrels have been hard pushed for food, owing to the severe winter, and they have been coming into habitations for supplies. At Shelburne Falls, one of the humane residents has been for some time feeding a dozen gray squirrels. They take their meals with him regularly, coming down on the fence to his place where he has set the food out for them. After eating their fill they return to the woods. They are becoming quite tame and seem to enjoy their privileges with frolicsome glee.

In regard to the spread of measles, a physician said recently: "In many instances the disease could be checked if parents would keep their children at home when they begin to cough. A child will be coming down with the measles, but the mother, believing that it has only a cold, will allow it to continue at school. Perhaps it will continue there for but a single day, but every time it coughs among its playmates it throws forth the fine spray that is highly contagious, and that may expose a score of children."

A few days ago a party of men were telling of snow storms here in the spring, and I was reminded of April, 1863, when we had several. On the 4th, eight inches fell in Washington, D. C., and during the storms the army of the Potomac were storm bound and the blockade fleet had to seek shelter. On the 12th anniversary of the carrying away of Minot's Ledge Light, April 6, we had a severe snow storm and some of our streets were ploughed out by the city teams.

Things are booming along the gold plated coast, otherwise, the North Shore, says the Salem, Mass., News. Mrs. Levi Z. Letter paid the record high price for a piece of property there, giving $150,000, for three acres of the Haven estate at the Farms. She is going to put a $400,000 mansion on it. Henry Clay Frick holds the record of expenditure for a mansion. He paid $1,000,000 or more for his place, Eagle Rock. While there may be land booms in big cities, and in the west, yet the great gain in the value of land along the North Shore, suitable for summer residences, should not be overlooked.

A burned or scorched cooking vessel is rough, even when perfectly clean. Smooth the surface with a piece of emery and grease and heat it thoroughly before using. Do not use it for foods that must be cooked several hours. Starchy foods, especially, are liable to burn.

Sooty cooking vessels may be cleaned by rubbing with old newspapers. If this is done each time the utensils are used they will not accumulate layers of soot. If the deposit is caked, heat the vessels and rub the rough surface with sandstone.

Electric Sign advertising is no longer an experiment. The most successful firms of world-wide reputation, as well as the stores with whom we have done business give us facts that prove the advertising worth of Electric Signs to be far in excess of any method of advertising that has ever been devised for the amount expended.

Look for the most enterprising city of today and you will find one that uses Electric Signs on all available locations and where merchants appreciate the advertising value and use light. I am making and selling the best signs that can be produced, not the cheapest, but signs that will stand up and give service for years. Recent inventions have reduced the cost and also the cost of maintaining. Public spirit and civic pride demand well lighted business sections in our cities, why not do your part with a well lighted, artistic Electric Sign and increase your business as well.

TWENTY-TWO LIVES ARE LOST BY FIRE

Destructive Blaze in Furniture Factory Shuts Off the Escape of Employees.

Chicago, March 25.—Twenty-two persons are reported dead in a fire which attacked the L. Fish Furniture company building at 1906-1908 Wabash avenue on Friday. About forty employees escaped. A girl who jumped from a third story window died at a hospital. The dead were trapped on the fourth, fifth and sixth floors when an explosion of benzine on the fourth floor wrapped the building in flames. One of the victims lost his life in a desperate endeavor to rush up stairs to the aid of the women and girls imprisoned above. Ten women and girls, it is said, were at work on the sixth floor when the explosion occurred. The spread of the flames was almost instantaneous and when the girls rushed to the stairways, they found escape cut off. They next turned to the front of the building, smashing in the window. Horrified spectators in the street saw one of the girls, Emma Lichtenstein, a filing clerk, step to the window ledge and heard her scream for help. Then she jumped, falling on the awning over the front entrance to the store where she lay unconscious until Dr. William J. Kinsley, crawling out on the canopy, lifted her. She was taken at once to St. Luke's hospital only a few blocks away, but died soon afterwards of internal injuries. Dr. Kinsley suffered slight burns. Soon after Miss Lichtenstein's desperate leap a crash as if the floors falling was heard and the faces at the window disappeared. Dr. Kinsley graphically described his experiences as follows:

"I was nearby when the fire started and when I reached the scene the sight fairly made my hair stand on end. The floors of the building were a mass of flames. Smoke in great clouds was rolling out of the windows. I cried 'Something must be done! Something must be done!' but like many others there I was so stricken by the sight of the faces half revealed in the sixth story windows that I could scarcely move. The girls were shouting 'For God's sake send us help,' and others were crying for the firemen to raise the ladders. I tried to get up the front stairways, but at the third floor a gust of flame burnt me about the face and hands and the next thing I knew I was back in the street again."

Isaac Fish, secretary of the Fish Furniture company, had a harrowing experience. He had entered the elevator when the explosion occurred. The door of the car was automatically locked, but in a frenzy Mr. Fish and the elevator boy attacked it with a stool which was in the cage and succeeded in breaking it down. Running through the third, second and first floors, Mr. Fish and the boy shouted a scarcely needed alarm, finally emerging into the street with the panic stricken crowd from these floors.

Simon Fish, a member of the furniture company, declares the firemen were slow in responding to the alarm and tardy in raising ladders to the upper stories. He says that firemen interfered with employees of the firm who were attempting to make rescues and declares he will prefer charges against the fire department. Fire Marshal Horan says his men responded without the loss of a second, and believes Mr. Fish will withdraw his charges after becoming calmer.

LIGHTING COMFORT

Just suppose, when company comes, you could pull a little chain and turn on a flood of light in a cluster of globes hanging from the parlor ceiling.

And suppose, a little later you could pull another little chain and turn on a beautiful light in a colored dome hanging over the dining room table.

Full still other chains and turn on lights in your bed rooms, your kitchen, or your cellar.

Pull another and fill your barn with light that would show up ever hair, straw or buckle as plain as these things would show by daylight.

Just suppose the comfort it would be and the work it would save, and let the Rockingham Light and Power Company install electric lights for you.

SHERMAN'S SHOW AT MUSIC HALL

The mid-weekly show of Sherman's Motion Pictures and Vaudeville opened last evening to a large and appreciative audience.

The vaudeville is headed this week by the Three Sherwood Sisters, three dainty young ladies, who sing some very catchy songs with plenty of spirit.

Laura Howe, refined entertainer.

and Barrett and Creary, in their comedy sketch "The Detective in-Wrong," were well received.

The picture program was the best presented in this city, the pictures being clear, spectacular and very interesting.

The program for today will include "The Fall of Babylon," a Bible story, "Ernest Ned," a great comedy, "Breaking the Spell," and others, all released today, and shown for the first time.

HAMPTON

There is more sickness in town now than at any time during the preceding winter months. Mrs. Maynard and Mrs. Berry are both confined to their rooms by grip colds; Mr. and Mrs. Charles G. Marston, Edward J. Brown and Mrs. W. T. Ross are afflicted with the real grip.

Mrs. Addie Brown was taken very suddenly ill at the home of Mrs. Locke a week ago. A physician was called, who removed her to her home. She is somewhat improved, but is still in a serious condition.

Saturday was "Tag" day of the Woman's Christian Temperance unions throughout the United States and members of the local union were more or less engaged in collecting all the dimes they could secure for the cause.

Mrs. J. W. Nutter, of Chelsea, and Mrs. J. W. York, of Kensington, were visitors in town Tuesday and Wednesday.

The residence of Warren Lane is being much improved by the addition of a piazza on the front of the house.

The Woman's club in town was pleasantly entertained by Miss Martha Locke on Monday afternoon. The program was "Picturesque New England." Two interesting papers were read, one on "Rivers, Mountains and Lakes," by Mrs. Church, and the other "Some Places Made Famous by Noted People of New England," by Mrs. Powers. Other features made the programme very interesting. On account of sickness among the members there were not as many present as usual. Refreshments were served by the hostess.

Miss Grone has returned from a trip to Florida and is a guest at the home of Mrs. Irving Powers.

A drama, entitled "Our Church Fair," was given in the town hall on Tuesday evening under the auspices of the Ladies Aid society, which netted them a good sum of money, including the receipts from a sale of home made cake and candy, and aprons of all styles. Special mention should be made of Miss Lucy M. Warner, who was called upon to take the part as president on account of the sudden illness of Mrs. Ross on Tuesday afternoon, who carried out her part with such perfection.

STRATHAM

Invitations are being sent out by the Town Hall improvement committee for a poverty party to be given on the 6th of April, which will give all ample time to get their costumes well patched up in order to compete for the prize to be given for the most appropriate dress.

At the school meeting Percy E. Jewell was elected a member of the school board for three years and Frank H. Pearson was elected clerk and treasurer. It was voted to raise $750 in addition to the amount required by law, $100 for painting the school house in division 2, and $150 for repairs.

Bunker Hill council, Jr. O. U. A. M., worked degrees on two candidates at its last meeting.

Mrs. Lena F. Low and children, of Derry, have been visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. S. M. Pearson.

George L. Barker has been visiting in Boston and vicinity.

A Grange Discussion on the Farm or the Farmer

A Drama and Other Entertainments by Local Talent

Rye, March 26.

The drama, "Tompkins' Hired Man," was given at the town hall Wednesday night under the auspices of the Ladies Social Union of the Christian church. Each part was well taken and received well merited applause. The case of characters was as follows:

Mr. Asa Tompkins, a prosperous farmer, who cannot tolerate a scoundrel.
Everett Seavey, the hired man; one of nature's noblemen.
Percy Moulton, John Remington, a young man in love with Louise.
Willmet Smart, Jerry, a half-grown awkward country lad.
Frank Peak, Louise, the daughter whom Mr. Tompkins believes to be his own.

Mrs. Lizzie Seavey, Julia, the only child of Mr. and Mrs. Tompkins.
Alice Peak, Ruth, a niece of Mrs. Tompkins.

Miss Lena Foss, Mrs. Sarah Tompkins, a woman with a secret.
Mrs. Flora Seavey, Between the acts piano solos were finely rendered by Miss Mildred Rand.

A largely attended and very interesting meeting of Rye Grange was held Friday evening at the Town Hall and the following program was presented by the lecturers:

Piano Solo, Mrs. Grace Brown
Reading, Mrs. Nellie Seavey
Paper—An Acorn.

Mrs. Fannie Marden, One act Musical Farce, "Because He Joined the Grange." A. Ruth Shapley, Jennie Drake, Percy Moulton.

Discussion, "Which is the Greatest Element in Success, the Farm or the Farmer?"

Mr. Herbert Jenness of Rye eBach has accepted a position in Boston and will assume his duties on Monday, March 28.

Mrs. Thomas B. Sterling returned home on Thursday from a week's visit with relatives in Milford, Mass. Master Charles Sterling, who accompanied her there, will return home later.

Edward Marshall was a visitor in Boston on Wednesday.

An Easter concert will be held tomorrow evening at the Congregational church.

A regular meeting of the Boys club was held on Friday evening at the club rooms.

A regular meeting of Seaside Council, No. 2, Junior Order of United American Mechanics will be held on Monday evening at which time several candidates will be initiated into the mysteries of the order. At the conclusion of the meeting a supper will be served.

Quite a number of Rye people attended the Congregational church fair at North Hampton on Wednesday and Thursday evenings. The drama, "The Village Schoolmaster" which was given at the Congregational church fair in this town was presented there on Thursday evening by the same cast.

There will be no services held at the Christian church on Easter Sunday as the pastor, Rev. J. B. Fenwick, has been called to Rhode Island by the illness of Mrs. Fenwick.

Mr. William J. Fraser of Malden, Mass., superintendent of the Direct United States Cable Company, as a visitor in town on Friday.

Mr. Albe Foss is on a business trip to the northern part of the state.

The following real estate were recorded at Exeter this week: Elizabeth A. Rand, Portsmouth, to Edgar B. Odrone, half certain premises, $1. Fred E. Knox, Epping, to Ocean Wave House Company, the Ocean Wave property, $1. Henry W. George, Barnstead, et al. to Sylvester D. Loveland, Goffstown land, $1. Last grants to Marion C. Parker, Franklin, land, $1.

Capt. Horace Berry and Elmer W. Casell, who have been passing the winter at Wallis Sands, have returned to their home on Rye Harbor road. Elmer W. Trefethen has moved into his new house at Lang's Corner.

A Pleasant Comparison.
She ordered a fowl for a grand dinner and made the cook bring her purchase for her inspection. She examined it, tossed her head discontentedly and said:
"It is a poor looking thing."
"Oh," said the cook, "when it is fixed up with truffles it will look different—just like when you put on your diamonds!"—Exchange.

EXPLODING A THEORY.

The Practical Method Adopted by a French Scientist.

At the beginning of the nineteenth century the French Academy of Sciences offered to give a prize to the first person who would solve the following problem: If you take a vase full of water and put a stone or any similar body in it the water will flow over. If, however, you put into it a fish, the volume of which is equal to that of the stone, it will not flow over. Explain this phenomenon.

Learned essays on the subject poured in from all quarters, but the problem was not satisfactorily solved in any of them, and consequently the prize was not awarded.

In the following year the same question was again propounded, and for five years answers continued to pour in to the academy. Then it suddenly occurred to one of the academicians that, after all, the problem might be incapable of solution, and he determined to make a test for himself.

Filling a vase with water, he put a stone into it and saw that the water flowed over. Then he took out the stone, filled the vase again with water and put into it a fish, the volume of which was the same as that of the stone, and saw, to his surprise, that the water again flowed over.

He told the academy of his discovery, and the result was that the offer of a prize was at once withdrawn.

THE BOWLERS

Portsmouth defeated Dover at Elks Alleys--Arcade Team Defeated Exeter.

At the Elks' Alley

The Portsmouth bowling team defeated the Dover team in a closely contested match at the Elks' alleys on Friday evening, winning by a total of 29 pins. The local team rolled in rather hard luck, for instance, Young, who rolled 200, did not have a strike or a spare in the entire match. Woods was high man for the home team with 308, and also high single, with 111. Daniels was high man for the visitors with 294.

STRIKE SITUATION IS THE SAME

Philadelphia, March 25.—Good Friday found the situation in the street car strike practically unchanged. Although the carmen's leaders declare they will eventually force the transit company from its present stand pat attitude, there is no indication that the company will recede from its terms given the men through Mayor Reahurn on Monday. Nearly all the peace promoters as well as the political leaders, who last week intervened in the strike, have gone to Atlantic City for the Easter holiday. Peace negotiations so far as the politicians are concerned, have been abandoned.

It is said that at a meeting of the directors of the transit company to be held on April 4 the terms of settlement offered through the mayor will be withdrawn and that the only opportunity for the strikers to return to work thereafter would be as new men.

The committee of 10, in charge of the strike, will meet this afternoon to formulate plans for carrying on the struggle. The committee was busy yesterday in forming a new political party and for the first time since the beginning of the strike no formal statement or statement of review of the situation was given out.

time of the year, and if it had not been for the high wind, it would have ranked as one of the hot days of the year.

The temperature began to rise very shortly after midnight Thursday, and at sunrise it was warm. During the forenoon there was a steady rise until at noon in the direct rays of the sun the thermometer registered 90, and in sheltered places and in the shade, 77. At five o'clock at the police station, in the shade the thermometer registered 70, and at 8 o'clock this had dropped to 60.

A high westerly wind, at times almost a gale, materially tempered the unseasonable weather. The wind was warm and it made short work of the mud on the roads, and before evening clouds of dust were flying.

The weather bureau says fair, but cooler with from west to northwest winds for today and Sunday.

PAPERS ON OLD CHINA

Read at Meeting of the Helen Seavey Quilling Party

A special meeting of the Helen Seavey Quilling Party, D. A. R., was held on Friday afternoon at the home of Mrs. W. O. Jenkins on State street. There was a large attendance, and a most interesting meeting.

Old china was the subject under discussion and papers were read by Mrs. W. L. Hill on old china from a historical standpoint, and with it a story of John Hancock.

Mrs. John C. Parsons gave an interesting talk on the different wares.

Mrs. F. S. Towle had a good paper on the origin of the willow ware.

Mrs. W. O. Jenkins had a paper on historic old pieces of china.

Following the meeting a delat lunch was served by the hostess.

Among the guests present were Miss Brooks of Kittery and Miss Weeks of Greenland, the latter a direct descendant of John Hancock.

HOBSON AFTER SECRETARY MEYER

Washington, March 25.—Congressman H. P. Hobson is on Secretary Meyer's trail and armed with the monthly report of the late house committee on naval affairs he attacks everything Mr. Meyer has ever done. Mr. Hobson divides his report into two parts, one relating to navy reorganization, the other being an argument in favor of four battleships instead of two. The comment on navy reorganization takes Secretary Meyer to task for ousting the Newberry plan. He alleges that it is bad for the personnel, is an injury to the fighting of fleet, lowers the grade of work, and standard of economy at navy yards, is contrary to the practice of navy yards abroad and private shipyards at home, and would be demoralizing.

A passage in the report which has attracted much attention is that in which Mr. Hobson alleges "a line clique," beginning with the Panther pamphlet incident at the Philadelphia navy yard. He says the recommendations from that insubordinate secret affiliation of line officers have been adopted by the various boards detailed by Mr. Meyer, whose final plan is a development of the Panther scheme. He also asserts that studied attempts have been made to discredit the Newberry plan, and he attacks the navy department and the president for an alleged intention to punish the chief constructor and the paymaster general of the navy.

The comments of Mr. Hobson have rendered the situation in the navy department more acute. There will naturally be a suspicion that the chief constructor and the paymaster general are responsible for the information which Mr. Hobson uses in his report, especially as Mr. Hobson was a member of the construction corps before he resigned from the service. The charges made by Mr. Hobson may result in some statement from the secretary of the navy to be used on the floor of the house or senate in case Mr. Hobson's allegations receive serious attention.

TROUBLE IN THE FRANKLIN PAPER MILL

Franklin, N. H., March 25.—Union members of the day shift in the local mills of the International paper company did not take their places Friday in accordance with the vote of the union on Thursday, and there are now more than 100 men on strike, about half of them having quit Thursday night. These men, however, are employed in the pulp mills, and Supt. John T. Mulroy said Friday he expected no general strike in the plant. One of the pulp mills was forced to suspend operations.

Mr. Mulroy stated that nearly all the strikers perform unskilled labor and that it would not be difficult to obtain men to take their places. He said he would confer with the New York officials of the company by telephone today and later decide if the strike breakers would be put to work. Several former employees here have expressed their willingness to return to work in the mills, said Mr. Mulroy.

Among some of the strikers who went out were the firemen in the mill. They allowed the fires under the boilers to burn out, necessitating the stopping of all the machinery for about an hour. Other employees took charge of the boilers and new fires were started.

President John H. Hallin of the International sulphite, pulp and paper mill workers was directing the strike here today. A 10 per cent. increase in wages, recognition of the union, elimination of Sunday employment and time and a half for Sunday work when it is absolutely necessary, are the demands of the strikers.

Three of the pulp mills are running, although somewhat crippled. The machine men in the paper mills did not go out.

A meeting of the union was held Friday, and endeavors were made to induce the paper machine tenders to quit work.

President Mallin will leave town this afternoon and proceed to his home in Port Edward, N. Y., before returning to Rumford, Me. He announced Friday that the Solon mills at Solon, Me., had been closed down since Monday.

Supt. Mulroy of the local plant said Friday that he received word from the company's New York headquarters that 20 machines in the various mills were in operation in the towns which have had strikes within the past two weeks, and that the company was only slightly hampered by the labor troubles.

CATTLE DECREASE POPULATION INCREASE

Washington, March 25.—An increase of 12,000,000 in the population of the United States during the past 10 years and a decrease of about 5,000,000 in the number of available food animals is the estimate made by the bureau of statistics from reports of these two subjects, made respectively by the census bureau and the department of agriculture.

Another lesson in the law of supply and demand, deduced by the bureau of statistics is that the supply of food animals has gone down three per cent. while the value has increased 22 per cent. In the meantime the price of grains necessary for food for these animals has increased from 56 to 75 per cent.

The value of cattle, sheep and hogs in this country in 1901 was estimated at $1,343,000,000, in 1910 at $2,308,000,000. This is an increase of 22 per cent.

Cattle are the one class of food animals to come anywhere near keeping pace with the growth in population. Cattle have increased in number 11 per cent. while the population has increased 16 per cent. There were about 2.3 animals to each person in the country in 1901. In 1910 there were about 1.9.

A pound of lard in 1901 was worth 7.4 cents; in 1910 it is worth 18 cents, an increase of 143 per cent. This may be accounted for in part, at least by the fact that there has been a decrease of 16 per cent. in the number of hogs in the United States.

BAD FIRE

Hamilton, Mass., March 25.—One of the worse fires in the history of this town swept the entire business section on Friday, destroying practically all of the stores, and nearly twenty other buildings.

The fire broke out at noon in the dwelling of Charles Dodge, being caused by an overheated chimney, and fanned by a high wind, the flames soon spread to adjoining houses, and before the small fire department could get to work the entire town was threatened. Help was sent from Beverly, Danvers and Peabody, and it was late in the afternoon before the fire was checked. The loss will be about $250,000.

A Well Paid, Flery Job That Wears a Man Out in Fifteen Years.
The man who stood at the lever and a story that is common all over America. Ten years before he had been a peasant lad in a dull little village in Ireland. Drawn up and along by the emigrant tide, he had drifted to Chicago, and here in the works he had sought the true spirit of the place, which is to strap every nerve and rise. He had risen. His pay was $30 a week. He worked every night from 6 p. m. to 6 a. m., twelve vigilant hours. Watching those three mammoth wheels, by the dint and lues in their columns of flame he could tell just when to wrench back a lever. This he did over a hundred times in the night, and he missed by so much as thirty seconds he spoiled thousands of dollars' worth of steel. He never missed.

To hold this job is to join the strength of a lifetime into fifteen years. At $30 a week, the man recognized this as a matter of course, only qualifying it by the remark that he knew of a rethended Scotchman at Housatonic who had held it seventeen years before breaking. That his whole life had been changed; that the little Irish village, the misty bog and the hump were back in another age, on another planet—all this he felt vaguely and adumbrated it up with a twinkle. "Shure," he said, "it's a terrible quick spin this old world is after takin'." But he loved the flery job, called the huge tanks "me darlin's," and said he would rather be what he was than be president.—Ernest Poole in Every-body's.

COLORS IN FLAGS.

Red is the Most Frequent, and After That Comes Blue.

It is entirely appropriate, of course, that red, the war color, should appear so frequently in the flags of the various nations. Of the flags of the countries of the eastern hemisphere there is only one—that of Greece—which does not show the martial color. In the western hemisphere, however, we find several standards not showing red. The flag of the Argentine Republic, Brazil, Nicaragua, Guatemala, Uruguay and Honduras contain no red.

In this country there is no red in the union jack or in the flags of the secretary of the navy, the admiral of the navy, the rear admiral senior in rank and the rear admiral junior in rank. Red appears in the pennant of the rear admiral second in rank and the pennant of the revenue marine. The United States mail flag also shows red, and that color is also found in the pennants for the vessels of the light-house service, the yacht eagle, the shield of the revenue marine, the president's and the secretary of war's standards.

The flags that are almost entirely red, except for the devices shown thereon, are those of Austria-Hungary, Egypt, Morocco and Japan. The flag of Turkey is piped with a solid red. After red the color in flags is blue.—Harper's Weekly.

Something Wrong.

The balloon pilot landed in the little backwoods village and told the listeners the thrilling story of his escape.

"And at one time," he related, with dramatic force, "I was in a storm and sweeping over a vast desert. There was nothing to do but throw out sand and prepare for the worst. Gentlemen, at one time I felt as if I had lost my head, and gone plumb crazy."

The oldest inhabitant slowly lifted his pipe and drawled, with a sarcastic smile:

"You must have been plumb crazy, bub, to throw sand on a desert. Didn't you think there was enough sand there already?"—Chicago News.

What Intermittency Means.

Intermittency is that form of irregularity in which the pulse appears to drop a beat occasionally. In some instances it occurs regularly and two or three times per minute for several hours. Sometimes also it is very irregular and is noted a number of times within a few seconds and not again for a minute or more. This peculiarity generally causes much uneasiness. Yet, while it may be a very serious symptom and associated with grave and incurable disease of the heart, it often signifies merely a functional disturbance which is in nowise dangerous.

Why He Got Up.

It was only about noonday, but the commuter yawned. He yawned heavily two or three times.

"Got up at 6 o'clock," he explained, "and to catch my train. When my wife waked me I said to her: 'Sir, waked!' The chickens haven't begun to crow yet, have they? Why must I get up before the chickens do, I'd like to know."

"I don't know," she said, "unless it's because you're no chicken."—New York Press.

Fatal Curiosity.

"How did they manage to get such a fine thumb print of the burglar?" "The house had been painted that day, and he just couldn't resist the temptation to feel of the paint to see if it was dry."—Houston Post.

Her Worry.

Mrs. Boyle: You seem unhappy.
Mrs. Doyle: I am. I don't believe that if I were to die my husband would wear as deep mourning as he did for his first wife.—New York Press.

AT NAVY YARD

Targets That Look Like Men

Marines to Come Here from Tropics

Daughter of Capt. Edwards to be Married

A Delay in the Arrival of the Battleship Wisconsin

Practising for the Shooting of Men Members of the marine guard at the navy yard have for some days been engaged in the rather gruesome task of shooting at dummies supposedly representing escaping prisoners. As the target practice occurs on the harbor side of Seavey's Island near the prison, the occupants thereof have ample opportunity to reflect on what their own chances would be should they attempt to take French leave.

The Hopkins at Mare Island The torpedo boat Hopkins broke down about twenty miles off the Golden Gate and limped into the Mare Island navy yard on Friday night, under her own steam, but with only one boiler working. Going up the coast the Hopkins is reported to have experienced much trouble with leaky boiler tubes. Off the Farallone Islands both boilers gave out about noon Friday and the little boat was completely disabled. The crew succeeded in making temporary repairs to one boiler and with steam at low pressure, the vessel made her way to port, meeting the navy tug Umatic outside the harbor. The Hopkins is the torpedo boat on which a number of men were seriously injured several weeks ago by the bursting of steam tubes while the vessel was off San Pedro.

Clerks Meet on Monday The clerks of the naval station are to have a busy meeting on Monday evening at Grand Army Hall. Some important matters will come up for action.

Called Back from Furlough Curtis Chick, dinner in the manufacturing department, has been recalled from a furlough to duty in the hull division.

Portsmouth Will Get a Few of this Lot

The U. S. S. Prairie sailed from Colon March 22 with seven officers and 325 men of the marine corps on board, bound for the Philadelphia yard, which she will reach Monday morning, March 28. The marines in this detachment have been at Camp Columbia for the past two years, and, having completed their tour of duty in the Canal zone, will now be distributed to the naval stations and yards on the Atlantic coast. The marines stationed for several months in Nicaragua have taken their place on the Isthmus, and are in camp at Las Casapadas, about two miles from Obispo and midway across the Isthmus.

Ornaments for the Lawns

Two capstans, one from the U. S. S. Maine and the other from the U. S. S. Wisconsin, are being put in on the lawns fronting the construction office building and will add much in the way of souvenir ornaments about the yard.

Marriage Announcement Made

Congratulations are being extended from her many friends in this city to Miss Margaret Edwards, daughter of Captain and Mrs. John R. Edwards, whose marriage engagement is announced to Ensign Philip Huston Hammond, U. S. N. Miss Edwards was formerly a resident at this station and is a most lovable young lady who endeared herself to a host of young friends while at Portsmouth.

Wall in Bad Shape

A Question of Color.

Benjamin Constant when painting the portrait of Queen Victoria made the grand ribbon of the Garter, which was part of his illustrious sister's costume, a certain tone of blue. The queen criticised this part of the picture, but Constant stuck to his color. One day he received from Windsor a little parcel containing the order of the Garter. The queen, fully convinced that she was right, had sent him the ribbon to prove his color sense was wrong. She did not confer the Garter upon him, however.

NEW LICENSE INSPECTOR?

Laconia Hears a Tale That Magoon Will be Dropped

Laconia, March 26.—It is reported here by a man well versed in state affairs, that the state board of license commissioners has decided to drop from its list of special agents Leon B. Magoon of Littleton, and put in his place a Democrat. It will be recalled that following the organization of the commission in 1903 Messrs. Ordway of Milford, Locke of Concord, Howe of Littleton, Flood of Nashua and Small of Rochester were appointed special agents. All were Republicans except Mr. Small. Later on, Mr. Howe resigned and Mr. Magoon, who had been a prominent member of the Manchester police force, was appointed to the vacancy. Last May, the number of special agents was reduced to three, Flood and Small being dropped. There was no little comment at the time that in the reduction was included the only Democrat in the list.

It was not intimated who the new member is to be, but it is surmised that Mr. Small might be restored to the force, as it was stated that the only reason for discontinuance of his services was that with the much smaller license territory there was not sufficient work for the full corps of special agents.
